PTFE-Coated, Stranded Hook Up Wire from Remington Industries is utilized in a variety of general-purpose electrical applications. The multi conductor wire is made from silver-plated copper that offers high quality performance and excellent electrical conductivity. The extruded PTFE insulation (short for Polytetrafluoroethylene -- also known as Teflon) allows for use in high temperature electronic applications, while also protecting the wire against abrasion, chemicals, oils, and solvents. The insulation is also highly resistant to thermal aging, solder damage, flame, and moisture. The wire conforms to MIL-spec specifications and provides great uniformity for processing, stripping, and terminating. This hook up wire is available in many wire gauges (from 16 to 30 AWG) to meet your specific requirements. It is also available in a variety of colors (see below) to allow for easy circuit identification, as well as numerous spool sizes (see below) for your convenience.
